Western Pennsylvania Operators Will Attempt To Open Mines At Invitation Of President

Will Demand Protection Of State Police And National Guard—Base Wages Scale Of 1917—Officials Of Mine Workers Protest To Govt. Attempt To Send Strike Breakers Into Mines.

GOVERNOR SPROUL OFFERS SUPPORT

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 19.—Western Pennsylvania coal operators today accepted President Harding's invitation to reopen mines under protection of the State Police and the National Guard. The operators decided to resume operations in the Pittsburgh district to the greatest extent possible on the basis of the wages in effect in 1917. The check-off will be abolished.

The scale committee of the Pittsburgh Coal Operators Association announced that the new wage scale will be $5.00 per day of eight hours, day labor, seventy cents a ton for machine coal and $7.64 for pick coal. The following statement was issued: The operators, generally, feel that the statement made by the President of the United States, together with assurances of proper protection, have greatly clarified the situation and will result in an increase in the production of coal. This will be particularly true in the non-union fields of the state inasmuch as the many promises made to the unfortunate men who ceased work at the request of the union have failed to materialize.

MINE WORKERS OFFICIALS ENTER PROTESTS

Washington, D. C., July 19.—President Harding's plan to force increased coal production despite the strike of 600,000 miners by attempting to operate union mines with strike breakers working under troops protection received a sharp setback today. Officials of the United Mine Workers served notice on Government officials, handling the coal tie-up that any attempt to send strike breakers into the closed shop mines will result in the strike of union engineers, pump men and other workers now working to prevent the mines from filling with water and otherwise deteriorating.

Assurances that they will use all their power in protection to the mine owners in reopening their mines were received from six Governors at an early hour at the White House today. These responses were from—Governor Morrow, Kentucky; Governor Kendall, Iowa; Governor McCray, Indiana; Governor Hardwick, Georgia; Governor Hart, Washington; and Governor Mecham, New Mexico. Other answers were expected at the White House hourly.

Letter of The Central Coal Association of Penn'a.

The Central Coal Association of Pennsylvania is against President Harding's recent attempt to end the coal strike and before leaving Washington presented the following letter, stating their position and contentions, to the President. This statement, which also has the endorsement of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, is self-explanatory and follows:

Washington, D. C.,
July 17, 1922.

Dear Mr. President:—

The Central Coal Association of Pennsylvania has a full realization of the solemn obligation placed upon it to concur in any plan which promises a speedy and peaceful settlement of the present strike. When such a plan is offered by the President of the United States it becomes in effect a command of the American people.

The only possible justification for a refusal to accept unquestioningly the President's decision is a sincere and well-founded conviction that such a proposal embodies features that imperil the general welfare and constitute a menace to other industries than our own.

The mere fact that such a plan may work an irreparable injury among hundreds of thousands of individuals whose savings are invested in mining enterprises is serious but not sufficient in itself to warrant a refusal to accept its provisions. In fact it is insignificant in comparison with principles of public interest and citizenship, which are involved.

With these principles in mind the operators have made a sober and careful analysis of the President's plan. They must refuse to accept it and their reasons are as follows:

FIRST.—The wage rates offered by the President to union miners in the provisional scale are those exacted and paid in 1920 when the peak demand and peak prices for commodities prevailed. The wage rates already accepted by non-union miners who, up until this week, had continued to produce one-half of the country's requirements, are approximately 30% lower than those proposed by the President and equal, nevertheless, to the highest war time wages paid in 1918 and 1919.

The inevitable consequence of our acceptance of this provisional scale is to cause an immediate re-inflation of the cost of mining and the price of coal in the districts which had already made the post-war adjustment and

WILL ENDEAVOR TO OPERATE THE PENNA. COAL & COKE MINES

The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation this morning posted the following notices at all their mines in this region:

Notice

The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation accepts the proposal of the President of the United States for a settlement of this strike.

We believe that a settlement of the President is a command and that the future welfare of every citizen depends upon the willingness of every group of individuals, to bow to the will of the majority as voiced by President Harding.

All operators have been instructed to return home and resume operations. We expect more detailed information from Washington within a few days, and will then notify our former employees what the Government expects of the Operators and the Mine Workers.

U. S. FEDERAL TROOPS ARE IN DEMAND AS STRIKE BREAKERS

Paris, France, July 19.—American troops in the Army of Occupation today occupied the Concordia Smelter at Coblenz, forcing strikers to resume work and furnish gas for the city, according to a despatch received today by the Echo d'Paris from Mayence.

STRIKING MINERS FIRE ON DEPUTIES

Washington, Pa., July 19.—Twenty shots were fired by a mob of striking miners assembled at Cokesburg Junction early today with the announced intention of attacking the Wilson mine there for the second time in a week. They were dispersed by Sheriff Llewellyn and State troops under Captain McLaughlin. The men were permitted to return to their homes and no arrests made. The Wilson mine which is owned by Kuhn Bros. of Pittsburgh resumed operations a week ago. The first shipment of coal, five carloads was made yesterday and this was believed to have inflamed the strikers.

BOOTLEGGERS FILL COLUMBIA JAIL

Berwick, Pa., July 19 (U. P.).—Columbia County jail now has 15 inmates the largest number to be confined in several years. Violation of the prohibition laws is believed to be the reason for the increase in population at the county institution.

Last Friday he ran into a colony of pigeon hawks near the reserve and succeeded in killing the entire lot of six. One mother hawk was shot at her nest in the act of feeding a young robin to her half grown offspring. He also shot three big

LABOR FEDERATION ASKS ASSISTANCE FOR RAIL STRIKERS

Washington, July 19.—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor today called on all organized labor to assist the railroad strikers to win their fight by refusing to carry on any of the work dropped by the strikers. The Council by unanimous vote authorized President Gompers to issue this proclamation to the workers.

FOUR FARMERS ARE UNDER ARREST ON MURDER CHARGES

Wellsburg, W. Va., July 19.—Four well known farmers of Brooke County were lodged in the county jail today charged with murder in connection with the miners' attack on Cliftonville on Monday. State police found ten ammunition boxes on their farms which are located close to Cliftonville, and said, and two twenty five caliber rifles were found nearby. The men arrested were Martin Kline, aged 48 his son Charles, aged 19, Riley Stout aged 40, and his son Graham, aged 19.

LIVING COSTS ARE ON UPWARD TREK

Washington, D. C., July 19.—While sale prices for commodities, some of which will not reach the consumer for six months, continued their upward trend during June making an increase for the month of 1.1-3% as compared with an advance of 3.1-2% during May, according to statistics published today by the Department of Labor. The June level is 5.1-2% above last year and 50% above the 1913 level, the report shows. Fuel and building materials showed the sharpest advances, rising 4.1-2% and 1.1-2% above the May average, cloth more than 2.1-4 per cent.

TWO MEN SHOT IN RAIL STRIKE CLASH

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 19.—Railroad guards late last night fired into a mob of several hundred young men who were bombarding the Lehigh Valley round house with rocks, wounding two. A third young man was admitted to the hospital suffering from shock. A large crowd gathered on a high bank and showered rocks on the houses below and the guards opened fire. William Bryce, aged 23, was shot through the leg and Carol Peterson, aged 17 was shot twice through the back. Alfred Kemmerer, aged 15, collapsed when the firing began. A riot call was sent in and police dispersed the mob. An investigation by the authorities is under way today.

Mrs. Mary Shaffer and children Julia and Oscar, returned today after visiting at Belefonte.

State Governors Will Go Along In Strike Crisis

Offer To Lend Police And Military Powers Of Their States To Protect And Guard All Operations which Accept Pres. Harding's Invitation to Resume Coal Production by Opening Mines.

GOVERNOR SPROUL AMONG THE FIRST

New York, N. Y., July 19.—Governors of the principal coal producing states in the country moving to act in response to the President's call outlined to the United Press today their plans to meet the impending crisis. The majority of the Governors indicated the keenest appreciation of the gravity of the situation. Sproul declared their belief that a national emergency was at hand and that no steps would be left untaken to preserve order.

It is our duty to do all that we can to avert a dangerous crisis, wired Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania. Governor Harry L. Davis, of Ohio, wired the following: "The State of Ohio has adequate means at its command to suppress violence and enforce and cause all laws to be observed and obeyed and the State of Ohio has used and will use such means, adopt such measures and employ such forces, civil and military, as may be necessary to effectively preserve order."

Governor Percival P. Baxter, of Maine, wired: "Because our people and our industries are dependent upon the proper supply of fuel, Government action will be warranted. Unless production and shipment of coal is immediately resumed, Maine will soon face a real crisis."

Governor Oliver Shoup, of Colorado, wired: "Relative to the coal mining situation in Colorado, the production of coal from the mines of Colorado for the month of June was 190,000 tons greater than for the same month in 1921 and I know of no reason why this favorable condition may not continue."

Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania, wired: "Without taking sides in the controversy between the coal operators and miners we must recognize that a great public emergency exists and a greater one is in prospect. It active mining is not quickly resumed wide-spread unemployment in industries will result. The rewards of agriculture will again be demoralized and hardship will be felt all over the land. Such conditions affecting the whole people make the points of controversy between the mine owners and their men seem trifling in comparison. I am heartily in accord with the efforts of the President in his endeavor to bring about a speedy settlement. As I assured the President yesterday everything will be done in the State of Pennsylvania to uphold his hands in his plans and purposes and it is our duty to do all we can to avert a grave crisis which may cause much trouble and perhaps real disaster in the republic and we must do all in our power to protect all in their rights in Pennsylvania."

RAIL STRIKE SETTLEMENT IN PROSPECT IS OPTIMISTIC REPORT FROM CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., July 19.—A concerted drive by union and carrier heads and the Railway Board to sweep aside remaining differences in the nation-wide hopmen's strike and to get the men back to work by Monday was under way today. Impetus was given the sweep toward peace by the announcement by President Grable of the Maintenance of Way men that his 400,000 workers would probably negotiate the disputes separately and that a strike would not be voted at the meeting at Detroit of the grand lodge officers on Friday. The railroad labor board indicated it would grant the Way men a hearing of their case and the settlement would be retroactive to July 1st. One wage compromise, with the Main Tenace Men of the C. M. & St. P. already has been docketed.

Chicago, July 18.—Settlement of the rail strike is in prospect, it was declared here tonight by high authorities. The way out for both rail executives and union leaders is expected to be provided by hearings to be held before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee to amend the transportation act. The amendments to be considered are:

To make decisions of the United States railroad labor board compulsory.

To set a minimum wage for all classes of railroad labor.

Announcement of E. F. Grable of the maintenance of way union that his controversy with the carriers would be settled without a strike and that Senator Cummins will start hearings on the above questions shortly, were believed to be the real break in the situation.

President E. M. Jewell of the Federated shop crafts, directing the strike, has insisted that he would consider no settlement unless the minimum wage was made the basis of any conciliation. Jewell recently declared that Senator Cummins told him this question would be taken up, but he was not ready to make any announcement.

Chances to "Save Face"

The announcement by President Grable that the hearings are to be held will offer the union leaders a better chance to call off the strike "with dignity" than any other plan yet set forth. As President Grable has just had a conference with President Harding on the situation, during which the employers' side was set forth in detail, it is believed that the President has given the men some assurance that the minimum wage demand will be given early consideration.

Grable was in conference with Chairman Ben Hooper and other members of the labor board today. Before the conference he said he did not see how his men could be held from going on strike. After it he said he had instructed his general chairman to take up the question of adjusting their difficulties with the individual roads.

Decisions Retroactive

President Jewell immediately called a conference with his executive committee and it was believed consideration was being given to the reported offers from Washington.

While Chairman Hooper of the labor board declared he had no statement to make, it was reported the peace offer to the men would take this form:

The wage cut of July 1 will stand pending hearings by the Senate committee and if wages are found not equitable, any new decision will be red-tailed hawks last week. When he kills a hawk Mr. Rearick removes its stomach which he dries and then sends same to the Biological Survey at Washington, where the contents of the stomach is analyzed and it is then determined just what these predatory birds feed upon at different seasons of the year which information is then given the gamekeepers and those interested in the protection of game and inculcious birds.

While traveling thru the game reserve yesterday Mr. Rearick killed the granddaddy of all the rattlesnakes on the mountains. This monster reptile which disputed the right of way of a mountain path with the game keeper when killed measured four feet, ten inches in length, while it took a string sixteen inches in length to encircle the snake's body at the middle. He sported eight rattles and when he sounded his alarm Rearick said it sounded like a boy beating a dishpan with a club.

Mr. Rearick installed a register at his mountain home last week and on Sunday last 153 people from all sections of the country placed their autographs in same. All stopped to look over the zoo the game keeper maintains which includes a spotted

The Community Service Playground faculty arranged a bacon bat at Carter's Green Monday afternoon for the volunteer play leaders. Some forty responded and in spite of thunder rumblings, fires were burning, bacon frying and coffee boiling merrily. Half the guests had come at five to help cook, but just as hot dogs were scientifically prepared, the rains descended and all, including the food, were drenched. Mrs. John Martin came to the rescue inviting the damp crowd to her home, so a few dry ones plus some hardy souls who went home and changed, wound up a jolly evening. What of the supper survived the wetting was warmed over and gaily eaten, followed by games and singing.

ervisors Association and the County Commissioners had all been carried out and that today there was completed and under construction almost thirty miles of road in which the County and the local communities had participated.

The Secretary made a brief report showing what had been accomplished since the original organization of the Association in January 1919. On the purely State projects or primary routes all of the unimproved sections between DuBois and the foot of the Tyrone Mountain had been placed under contract, and in doing this the Association through its officers had constantly cooperated with the Commissioners and the State Highway Department. One of the accomplishments to which attention was called was the fact that changes had been recommended in original routes which resulted in the elimination of eleven grade crossings, all at danger points. Out of the organization grew the campaign for the million dollar bond issue which is now being spent and for which the County is getting 28.9 miles of improved, paved road. That when Route No. 62 a purely primary route to be built by the State, being the River Road from Curwensville to Cherry Tree is built by the State and an additional thirty miles by the County, every Borough and Township in the County would be connected by paved road, a condition that few Counties can boast of. In the past three and a half years there has been secured for Clearfield County between seventy and eighty miles of improved road at an expenditure of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 dollars, of which the County furnished $1,250,000.

Mr. J. M. Leis, of Helvetia, head of a committee from that section asked the Association for its backing of their application for about four miles of road from Stanley, via Helvetia to Luthersburg. Louis Lundberg, of Lanes, also asked for action on a piece of road in Cooper Township, application for which has already been made and approved.

The question as to whether or not the Good Roads Association had served its usefulness and should be discontinued was brought up and the unanimous opinion of the meeting was that its work was not yet done, but the organization should be continued.

L. W. Smith of Penfield asked for some action to be taken on the Penfield Mountain Road so the people of Penfield Valley could reach Clearfield. After discussion it was ordered by motion passed that a Committee of five, two from Penfield Valley, and the other three from Clearfield and Lawrence Township should be created by the Chair to solicit funds and arrange for ways and means to put the road in passable condition.

The question which has been discussed in the papers recently as to the maintenance of our County improved road was referred to a representative of the State Highway Department who stated that under an Act passed by the last Legislature the State Highway Department is authorized and required to see that no permanently improved road is permitted to disintegrate for want of repairs and attention. That is, the State has supervisory authority, and, it necessary power to repair and pay for such road repairs as will keep for roads in proper condition.

James Ruffner of Madera, moved and it was seconded by a dozen persons, that the Association at once begin a campaign for the passing of another million dollar bond issue, which resolution was unanimously adopted.

L. C. Norris, Clerk to the County Commissioners, on behalf of the Commissioners thanked the Association for the assistance that had been rendered them on the road proposition and expressed the Commissioners appreciation of the help that had been so generously given them in solving the many intricate problems which arose. Mr. Norris, by request, also read a report of the number of County projects to which the Million Dollar Bond issue had been applied, giving the localities and the mileage and cost of each project showing a total mileage of 28.9 miles and leaving in the fund a balance of $70,000.00 after paying a number of damage claims.

On motion the officers for the past year were re-elected by acclamation and the meeting adjourned to the call of the Chair.

assumption of a part in the dispute between organized workers and organized employers. I did offer the only available agency which I knew to effect a settlement, and these good offices have not availed.

"It becomes necessary, therefore, in the name of common welfare, to invite production in the fulfillment of that obligation which attaches to any American industry engaged in providing a public necessity and to afford security to all men alike who are ready and willing to work and serve the common need. AN ORDINANCE—Providing for an increase in the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and an issue of bonds to provide funds for the purchase of the same. Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Clearfield in Council regularly assembled and it is hereby ordered and enacted by authority of the same.

Section 1.—That the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield be and the same is hereby increased in the sum of Six Thousand Dollars to provide funds for the purchase of fire apparatus, which increase of indebtedness is within the two per centum of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of said borough and is within the amount which the municipal authorities have the right to borrow without the assent of the electors thereof.

Section 2.—That twelve coupon bonds of Five Hundred Dollars each, payable in thirty years from the first day of September, 1922, and each redeemable at the option of the Borough of Clearfield in five years, from the date thereof, with interest payable semi-annually on the first days of March and September of each year on each of said bonds at a rate of not more than five per cent per annum, clear of all taxes, be issued for said indebtedness, said bonds to be dated the first day of September, 1922.

Section 3.—That the form of said bonds, shall be drafted by the Committee on Finance of the Council of the Borough of Clearfield and shall be approved by the Council and the Burgess, and the President and Secretary of Council are hereby directed and empowered to sign, seal, and on payment of the money for said bonds, to deliver same with coupons to the purchasers.

Section 4.—That an annual tax of one-fourth mill upon each dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the Borough of Clearfield commencing in the year 1923, be and the same is hereby levied and assessed for the purpose of paying the interest and principal of said bonds.

Section 5.—That before any of said bonds shall be issued, the President and Secretary of Council are hereby directed to file in the office of the Clerk of Quarter Sessions of Clearfield County the statement of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the Borough of Clearfield for the year 1922, and to cause the same to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Clearfield.

Section 6.—That the Committee on Finance is hereby authorized and directed to negotiate the sale of said bonds to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement as provided by law but no bid for said bonds at less than their par value shall be accepted.

Ordained and enacted this Seventeenth day of July A. D. 1922. GEORGE M. ROSSER, President of Council

Attest: J. D. CONNELLY, Secretary of Council. Examined and approved this Seventeenth day of July A. D. 1922. KRANK KITTELBARGER, Burgess.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Retail sales of the Ford Motor Company for June totaled 148,439 trucks and tractors, including 6,054 Canadian and 9,435 foreign sales. Average daily sales were 5,709. The June total of sales was the highest in the company's history and brought the half year's sales to 662,261, also a new high record for six months' sales. July sales are estimated by the company at 151,787, against dealers' requisitions for 200,000.

One July day, forty-five years ago, Thomas A. Edison was busy on the top floor of his laboratory at Menlo Park, N. J., seeking a way in which telegraphic messages, received at ordinary speed, might be recorded "stored up" for transmission later at increased speed.

As he worked he made notes and sketches (in a technique strongly suggestive of Hendrik Willem Van Loon) and as he wrote and sketched he paused now and then to make experiments with apparatus already made according to his directions.

His machine as it existed then had an embossing point that when connected with a telegraph circuit moved up and down, indenting dots and dashes on a paper disk revolving beneath the point. Then the process would be reversed and the dots and dashes automatically repeated over another telegraph line.

While these tests went on Mr. Edison noticed—his hearing had not then become impaired—that a musical note was to be heard when the paper disk was revolving rapidly. An idea was borne of this phenomenon.

He stretched a little diaphragm, attached a steel point to it, coated some paper with paraffin and passed it by hand behind the point as he shouted at the diaphragm. Then he passed the coated paper back behind the steel point. Faintly but unmistakably he heard his own voice shout at him.

The phonograph had come into being.

Mr. Edison knew it too: Forthwith he sketched a draft of a machine and entered the date, July 18, 1877. Beneath, he wrote this prophetic declaration:

"Just tried an experiment with diaphragm having an embossing point and held against paraffin paper moving rapidly. The speaking vibrations are indented nicely and there's no doubt that I shall be able to store up and reproduce automatically at any future time, the human voice perfectly."

for re-election to the U. S. Senate—a feat his pre-war utterances pretty near lost for him. He has his hammer out for the present administration. Here are a few bouquets he handed out in his campaign opening. "The crisis is upon us. We cannot escape it. "Look for a moment at the appalling situation in the industrial field. The greatest of all our industries—agriculture—is almost prostrate. Emergency measures have failed to relieve the farmer. "Our coal industry is paralyzed. Suffering and want from scarcity of coal next winter seems a certainty. "Our great merchant fleet, built up at an expense of more than $3,000,000,000 is largely idle while a large American tonnage is carried in British ships. Our fleet is taking millions of dollars every day from the people's pockets. "Now it is proposed to sell this great fleet to a few private individuals for a few cents on the dollar and to give the purchasers a bonus besides. "Our railroad industry is in much the same condition as our ships. Since the passage of the Esch-Cummings act, the railroads have taken of the public treasury $1,500,000,000 and yet the burden of excessive rates has not been lifted. "Meantime, labor is idle as almost never before. "In addition to all the sacrifices the people made during the great war, they find themselves after it is over in the condition I have described and burdened with a war debt of $24,000,000,000 and saddled with an annual tax burden of approximately $4,000,000,000. The trusts were never so powerful before and recent legislation has only served to aggravate industrial distress. "Outside of the few things "Batling Bob" mentions and some others the country is alright or will be if Bob's pro-German friends send him back to the U. S. Senate."

BUT THE SENATE TALKS ON

Never was talk cheaper than it appears to be this session in the United States Senate. For months the public has waited for Congress to finish the business outlined in a most extensive and important program. Several times President Harding has called upon the legislative branch of the government to get down to business. The country needs a rest, even if the Congressmen don't. The useless prolongation of Congressional sessions at a time when important legislation affecting everybody's business is pending, frazzles the nerves of the nation.

Senator Calder, of New York, the other day touched off the time-wasting fireworks most effectively. He read into the Record a newspaper account of a Georgia lynching. Quite expectedly and in due form a bunch of Southern Senators rose to the occasion. They filled the Record with a discussion of the massacre at Herrin, Illinois. Senator Harris, of Georgia, took occasion to make the charge that there is more lawlessness in New York in a week than in Georgia in a year, which may be true. A week is a long while in New York.

One thing these undignified members of "the most dignified legislative council in the world" failed to make clear: Inasmuch as the constitution of the United States commits the police power to the individual states, what could the United States Senate, by a talkfest of any length, hope to do about the failure of the local authorities to keep the peace either in Georgia or Illinois?

A SAFETY FIRST SUMMER

The Safety Institute of New York is sending out warnings in the form of advice to parents everywhere that the season is upon them, demanding extra watchfulness over the conduct of their children, especially those of the more tender years. Of an approximate 20,000,000 children given liberty by the end of the school term, the Safety Institute estimates that 5,000 will be killed and 100,000 suffer injuries of varying severity during the vacation period. These figures are based upon the ratio of other years, and in the absence of some special caution by parents, may be verified by the records at the end of August.

The Institute offers the suggestion that a little more time devoted to a special training of the children against the more common risks will be rewarded by better results than an attempt at mere watchfulness alone. According to the Safety Institute the larger number of lives lost from fire, drowning and automobiles, and the most dangerous age is fixed at seven years. It is about that age, according to reports, that children are first freed from close parental restraints and watching, and stumble into dangers against which curiosity and ignorance has not been warned.

CRAZY PREPAREDNESS

A recent estimate asserts that there are more men under arms in Europe now than before the war when Germany was at the height of her military power. That is a pretty poor compliment to the common sense of Europe.

In 1914 a generation that had been at peace longer than the average memory had some excuse for not knowing what war would do to it. Everybody in Europe now knows what war is like. Their broken and maimed remember and remind. They're hungry, kept alive by the charity of a nation 3,000 miles away, ought not to want more war. The taxpayers ought to be satisfied not to risk more war. And yet these nations stand, like scratched, besmeared, disheveled, bloody-nosed youngsters in an alley, with doubled-up fists, ready to fly at each other again.

Pugnacious alley brats can be spanked and set to useful work. The boasted intelligence of our supposedly civilized world seems unable to accomplish so much.

made retroactive.

The board will assure observance of its decision forbidding contracting out of shops by the railroads.

"My reason for coming before the board today is due to the fact that I have just arrived from Washington, where I had a long conference with President Harding and others in regard to the present wage decision," said Mr. Grable.

To Settle "Living Wage"

"I have received advice that Senator Cummins, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, is going to hold hearings immediately on disputed points in the labor provisions of the transportation act to ascertain principally how the law may be amended so the living wage principle should be made clear to every employee guaranteed a living wage. The basis for the guidance of the committee in the present act is to set a 'just and reasonable' wage. The present issue which should be settled by such a hearing, is an interpretation of this phrase 'just and reasonable' and its application to a living wage.

Boston, Mass., July 19.—Fifty strike breakers were attacked last midnight by a mob of armed men at Concord, N. H., it was learned here today. Several of the men were reported to have been beaten and others driven from the railroad yards.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 19.—A compromise wage agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad and employee representatives of the shop crafts has been reached, it was announced today. The agreement brings to a close a series of compromise between the men and the management under the Company's system of direct negotiations with its men. It is said that about 140,000 are affected by the agreement.

DATE SET FOR START OF

NEW PENN STATE HOSPITAL

Plans are almost complete for the gathering of potato growers from every section of the state to attend the ground breaking ceremonies for the new hospital at the Pennsylvania State College—to be erected entirely from funds subscribed by Pennsylvania growers of the lowly "spud". The date has been set for August 25 and it is suspected that even before that date the entire fund of $150,000 will have been raised.

Delegations of potato growers from every county in the state are planning to come to State College for the breaking of the ground and it is suspected that more than 5000 will be on hand for the occasion. A leading place among those who expect to attend will be reserved for the 230 Butler county boys who have pledged $10,000 as their share in the movement. The visiting growers will not only "break" the ground breaking, but many of them will also have their first opportunity to inspect the college of the state, in which, as citizens of Pennsylvania, they are part owners.

USCO set the high value mark for 30 x 3 1/2 tires when it originated the $10.90 price last Fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

Care of the Baby's Skin in the Summer Time

Baby's skin needs particular care and attention in the summer time. During the hot weather baby is subject to so-called heat rashes. Another name for heat rashes is prickly heat. This shows itself as small red spots which usually come first on the neck and chest and back. This rash is really caused by excessive sweating due to the heat and the irritation of moist clothing on the skin.

Besides this rash, known as chafing may occur wherever two skin surfaces are in contact. It is present for the most part between the thighs, under the arms and in fat babies, in the folds of the neck.

Prickly heat may be easily prevented by keeping your baby dressed as cool as possible. Soft muslin or linen should be placed next to the skin in place of wool garments.

If the weather is very hot, the baby may be kept naked except for his napkin.

Frequent sponging of the body with water containing a little bicarbonate of soda, not only helps to prevent heat rash, but makes for the general comfort of the baby. Where chafing occurs, the parts should be carefully sponged off, thoroughly dried and freely powdered with baby talcum powder. Stearate of zinc powder may be used.

Should the affected parts be raw zinc ointment should be applied and the opposing skin surfaces separated by a very soft piece of muslin or linen.

Care must be taken not to have your baby breathe in any of the powder on his body. A serious form of bronchitis may develop should he do so. It is dangerous for him to play with the powder box.

As the rash of measles and scarlet fever may at times look like a heat rash, it is always best to consult your physician should you have any doubt as to the character of the rash on your baby.

Pipe Arch Bridge.

An engineering curiosity, said to be unique to this country and to have only one parallel in Europe, is the pipe arch bridge over the Sudbury river which carries Boston's water supply. The span is eighty feet, and the steel pipe, seven and one-half feet in diameter, rises five and one-half feet above the horizontal at the center. The pressure on the abutments when the pipe is filled with water is great and is resisted by a mass of concrete forty feet thick behind each abutment. Across the curved top runs a hand-rail foot bridge. The steel of the pipe in the arched portion is five-eighths of an inch in thickness.

BASEBALL FANS SHOULD SUPPORT LEGION BALL CLUB

Mgr. Bell and Players Feel They Should Be Given Much Better Attendance at Games.

IS REAL TEAM NOW

Manager Bell is stirring up considerable interest in baseball hereabouts and working hard to get a good team to represent Clearfield. His team has been greatly strengthened the past week and tomorrow afternoon when Ora Plank's fast club arrives here, they will stack up against the best team the American Legion has had on the field this season.

Several new faces will be in the lineup, which should be an added inducement to the fans to turn out. The team has not been having the support so far it deserves and in consequence thereof "needs the money" right now, and Manager Bell hopes to see a record "gate" tomorrow.

Among the newcomers is Nagel, the catcher, who had two home runs in the Gras-flat game, who has been playing with the Johnstown Independents during the past couple of weeks; Childs, a new twirler, comes from Punksutawney and is said to be a real "pretzel bender". He will start the game against Huntingdon and as he has beaten Haggerty's Indiana team and about all the other fast western Pennsylvania semi-pro teams is expected to make a good showing against the fast traveling visitors. In addition to the above Billy Fauver and Guy Bowes, who have been playing all summer at Jersey Shore will also be in the line-up.

The team will be made up from the following:

Infielders—Robinson, Heberling, Shade, W. Fauver, Olcott, Dieter and Peterson.

Outfielders—Lansberry, Bailey, Rowles, Bell, Evans, Bowes.

Pitchers—Childs, R. Fauver, Nichols, Cowdrick, G. Bowes, Erhart.

A further effort will be made to strengthen the team, a meeting for this purpose being scheduled for Friday evening between the directors of the C. C. A. A. and representatives of the American Legion. This meeting will discuss the question of continuing the team beyond the present schedule and the attendance at tomorrow's game will have considerable bearing upon this proposition.

Next Thursday St. Mary's team will be here while negotiations are on with Johnstown and Altoona Independents for following Thursdays.

Turn out at tomorrow's game and give the boys the financial encouragement they deserve. Nothing like good, clean baseball for killing off hot shovels. See you at the park tomorrow.

Letter of The Central Coal Association of Penna.

continued to serve the country's fuel needs on a reasonable basis.

An acceptance on our part of this provisional scale would constitute a betrayal of the operators and of the mine workers who had already borne their share of the economic burden which we have understood from the President's previous and often repeated statements was expected of every industrial group in the country.

As to the increased cost of coal to the consumer, we have nothing to say. The government having intervened, the public's interests are in its hands. We do, however, protest most vigorously against the unfair weapon now placed in the hands of a small group of labor leaders with which to destroy the work of re-adjustment already peacefully effected by mutual agreement in one-half of our industry.

SECOND.—The President's plan embodies a provisional scale for the resumption of work on basic wage rates and working conditions which grant to the miners practically every exorbitant demand which they have made, and for which they have contended without regard either for economic law, or for the laws of this country enacted to protect life, to preserve order and to guarantee the right of individuals to offer or to obtain employment by free bargaining, either singly or collectively.

Our acceptance of this proposal would establish and vindicate the doctrine of the radical element in organized labor that force wins victory.

As to the President's plan of arbitration, we are thoroughly in accord with it in principle as evidenced by our last resolution in conference, which was rejected by the mine workers. We protest, however, that the true principle of arbitration is perverted in the President's plan on the following grounds:

FIRST.—The operators are asked to surrender unconditionally their fundamental principle of district wage agreements before appearing before this commission. No recognition of regional necessities is granted during the provisional term which might, and no doubt would be extended until March, 1923.

SECOND.—We protest against the recognition made by the President's plan of the compulsory collection of union dues from the pay envelopes of all their employees under the iniquitous "check-off" system. By this means an enormous war chest has been automatically financed for the United Mine Workers. The funds thus exacted from every union miner have provided the means for conducting armed warfare, for financing a host of newspapers, pamphlets and lectures which have attacked the administration of the United States, attempted to nullify the authority of the supreme and federal courts, to foster class hatred, to condemn and discredit the orderly forces of society.

We are compelled to waive our two fundamental contentions before the appointment of a commission and the remainder of our case which might be brought before the commission is comparatively little moment to us, or to those who represent and cannot, in our opinion, be called arbitration in any true sense of the word.

We will promptly and willingly submit to any neutral commission of representative citizens not connected with the production of coal the full and detailed reasons for our unalterable stand upon district agreements and the abolition of the "check-off" system. And with these issues we will also arbitrate any and all other phases or features of our business.

Pending the appointment of a neutral commission and in order to meet the imperative demand for a prompt resumption of mining, we respectfully suggest that the President should amend his proposal for a provisional wage agreement as follows:

"Mine workers are to return to work on the scale of wages which expired last March 31st, adjusted to conform with the changes in the cost of living between August 15th, 1920, when this scale became operative, and this date. This adjustment to be determined from the cost of living under index figures of the Department of Labor."

We believe that the future of America as a manufacturing nation, and even as a democratic society depends upon the successful issue of our contentions.

It is with a full knowledge of its gravity that we have reached our decision and we respectfully call the President's attention to the perils involved in a compromise of principle to gain expediency at this critical juncture.

Respectfully submitted,

THE CENTRAL COAL ASSOCIATION.

HERBS USED IN MEDICINES

A Manchester, England, paper urges the renewed cultivation of old-fashioned medicinal herbs in English gardens. In the United States they also have gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes, as their medicinal value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tons of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for women's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

FINE SHOWING FOR PENN STATE'S WORK

STATE BUREAU TO AID OF BUSINESS

States College, Pa., July 19.—(U. P.)—The probable increase in produced wealth in Pennsylvania in a year resulting from the engineering instruction given to about 7,000 extension and correspondence students of the Pennsylvania State College is $1,000,000, according to an estimate made by Dean R. L. Sackett. The men, who are for the most part mechanics, designers, power plant engineers, shop operators and foremen do not come to the college at all but have their education brought to them by mail or by the traveling agents of the college.

"Assuming that this training increases their value by only six cents an hour," said Dean Sackett, "the additional wealth produced in the state amounts to about $1,000,000 a year. The entire cost of operating the college for a year is only a little more than twice this amount."

Harrisburg, Pa., July 19.—(U. P.)—Plans for the complete service to Pennsylvania manufacturers are being worked out by Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Clifford B. Connelley, with Harry A. Nye, of Erie, member of the State Industrial Board, representing the employers.

The first step in the plan of co-operation with manufacturers was submitted to Nye at the Board meeting this month to be acted on by the Committee on Industrial Surveys, of which Nye is Chairman. It comprises the gathering of statistics and information relative to foreign trade opportunities for Pennsylvania products. Nye thought it might be possible to obtain such data and publish it in the departmental periodical.

Letters will be sent to all manufacturers in the State, business men's associations, and manufacturers' organizations, advising them of the appointment of Nye to represent their interests on the Board, and to offer his services in any way that will further their interests. It is hoped that in this way suggestions may be received by which the full measure of co-operation with the State may be obtained.

It is possible that between now and the next meeting of the Industrial Board in September, Nye may address the business men and manufacturers of the State personally at some of their regular meetings, at which time he can explain his new duties and offer his services.

Saved.
When labor-saving machinery was first introduced, most people opposed it, on the ground that it would throw many out of jobs. Many an old-time sewing machine salesman still carries backshot in his legs as a result of "practical" gentlemen who objected to "labor-saving" devices that took work from women's hands. Today we are so used to labor-saving devices that we do not think of them as "labor-saving" any more. We see this illustrated in the case of the telephone. When it was first introduced, it was called a "talking machine" and was looked upon with suspicion.

The four machines are part of an order of fifty similar engines built by the Baldwin people, twenty of which were sent across country together on May 25th last and widely advertised. The four here today are a part of the remaining thirty now ready for delivery.

The engines are monsters. They are about 100 feet long and stand 16 feet 7 inches high in service.

They left Clearfield at 2:30 o'clock and will follow the Lake Shore route into Cleveland.

Western Pennsylvania Operators Will Attempt To Open Mines At Invitation Of President

Will Demand Protection Of State Police And National Guard—Base Wages Scale Of 1917—Officials Of Mine Workers Protest To Govt. Attempt To Send Strike Breakers Into Mines.

GOVERNOR SPROUL OFFERS SUPPORT

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 19.—Western Pennsylvania coal operators today accepted President Harding's invitation to reopen mines under protection of the State Police and the National Guard. The operators decided to resume operations in the Pittsburgh district to the greatest extent possible on the basis of the wages in effect in 1917. The check-off will be abolished.

The scale committee of the Pittsburgh Coal Operators Association announced that the new wage scale will be $5.00 per day of eight hours, day labor, seventy cents a ton for machine coal and $7.64 for pick coal. The following statement was issued: The operators, generally, feel that the statement made by the President of the United States, together with assurances of proper protection, have greatly clarified the situation and will result in an increase in the production of coal. This will be particularly true in the non-union fields of the state inasmuch as the many promises made to the unfortunate men who ceased work at the request of the union have failed to materialize.

MINE WORKERS OFFICIALS ENTER PROTESTS

Washington, D. C., July 19.—President Harding's plan to force increased coal production despite the strike of 600,000 miners by attempting to operate union mines with strike breakers working under troops protection received a sharp setback today. Officials of the United Mine Workers served notice on Government officials, handling the coal tie-up that any attempt to send strike breakers into the closed shop mines will result in the strike of union engineers, pump men and other workers now working to prevent the mines from filling with water and otherwise deteriorating.

Assurances that they will use all their power in protection to the mine owners in reopening their mines were received from six Governors at an early hour at the White House today. These responses were from—Governor Morrow, Kentucky; Governor Kendall, Iowa; Governor McCray, Indiana; Governor Hardwick, Georgia; Governor Hart, Washington; and Governor Mecham, New Mexico. Other answers were expected at the White House hourly.

Letter of The Central Coal Association of Penn'a.

The Central Coal Association of Pennsylvania is against President Harding's recent attempt to end the coal strike and before leaving Washington presented the following letter, stating their position and contentions, to the President. This statement, which also has the endorsement of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, is self-explanatory and follows:

Washington, D. C.,
July 17, 1922.

Dear Mr. President:—

The Central Coal Association of Pennsylvania has a full realization of the solemn obligation placed upon it to concur in any plan which promises a speedy and peaceful settlement of the present strike. When such a plan is offered by the President of the United States it becomes in effect a command of the American people.

The only possible justification for a refusal to accept unquestioningly the President's decision is a sincere and well-founded conviction that such a proposal embodies features that imperil the general welfare and constitute a menace to other industries than our own.

The mere fact that such a plan may work an irreparable injury among hundreds of thousands of individuals whose savings are invested in mining enterprises is serious but not sufficient in itself to warrant a refusal to accept its provisions. In fact it is insignificant in comparison with principles of public interest and citizenship, which are involved.

With these principles in mind the operators have made a sober and careful analysis of the President's plan. They must refuse to accept it and their reasons are as follows:

FIRST.—The wage rates offered by the President to union miners in the provisional scale are those exacted and paid in 1920 when the peak demand and peak prices for commodities prevailed. The wage rates already accepted by non-union miners who, up until this week, had continued to produce one-half of the country's requirements, are approximately 30% lower than those proposed by the President and equal, nevertheless, to the highest war time wages paid in 1918 and 1919.

The inevitable consequence of our acceptance of this provisional scale is to cause an immediate re-inflation of the cost of mining and the price of coal in the districts which had already made the post-war adjustment and

Notice

The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation accepts the proposal of the President of the United States for a settlement of this strike.

We believe that a settlement of the President is a command and that the future welfare of every citizen depends upon the willingness of every group of individuals, to bow to the will of the majority as voiced by President Harding.

All operators have been instructed to return home and resume operations. We expect more detailed information from Washington within a few days, and will then notify our former employees what the Government expects of the Operators and the Mine Workers.

STRIKING MINERS FIRE ON DEPUTIES

Washington, Pa., July 19.—Twenty shots were fired by a mob of striking miners assembled at Cokesburg Junction early today with the announced intention of attacking the Wilson mine there for the second time in a week. They were dispersed by Sheriff Llewellyn and State troops under Captain McLaughlin. The men were permitted to return to their homes and no arrests made. The Wilson mine which is owned by Kuhn Bros. of Pittsburgh resumed operations a week ago. The first shipment of coal, five carloads was made yesterday and this was believed to have inflamed the strikers.

FOUR FARMERS ARE UNDER ARREST ON MURDER CHARGES

Wellsburg, W. Va., July 19.—Four well known farmers of Brooke County were lodged in the county jail today charged with murder in connection with the miners' attack on Cliftonville on Monday. State police found fifty ammunition boxes on their farms which are located close to Cliftonville, and said, and two twenty five caliber rifles were found nearby. The men arrested were Martin Kline, aged 48 his son Charles, aged 19, Riley Stout aged 40, and his son Graham, aged 19.

LIVING COSTS ARE ON UPWARD TREK

Washington, D. C., July 19.—While sale prices for commodities, some of which will not reach the consumer for six months, continued their upward trend during June making an increase for the month of 1 1-3% as compared with an advance of 3 1-2% during May, according to statistics published today by the Department of Labor. The June level is 5 1-2% above last year and 50% above the 1913 level, the report shows. Fuel and building materials showed the sharpest advances, rising 4 1-2% and 1 1-2% above the May average, cloth more than 2 1-4 per cent.

TWO MEN SHOT IN RAIL STRIKE CLASH

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 19.—Railroad guards late last night fired into a mob of several hundred young men who were bombarding the Lehigh Valley round house with rocks, wounding two. A third young man was admitted to the hospital suffering from shock. A large crowd gathered on a high bank and showered rocks on the houses below and the guards opened fire. William Bryce, aged 23, was shot through the leg and Carol Peterson, aged 17 was shot twice through the back. Alfred Kemmerer, aged 15, collapsed when the firing began. A riot call was sent in and police dispersed the mob. An investigation by the authorities is under way today.

Mrs. Mary Shaffer and children Julia and Oscar, returned today after visiting at Belefonte.

State Governors Will Go Along In Strike Crisis

Offer To Lend Police And Military Powers Of Their States To Protect And Guard All Operations which Accept Pres. Harding's Invitation to Resume Coal Production by Opening Mines.

GOVERNOR SPROUL AMONG THE FIRST

New York, N. Y., July 19.—Governors of the principal coal producing states in the country moving to act in response to the President's call outlined to the United Press today their plans to meet the impending crisis. The majority of the Governors indicated the keenest appreciation of the gravity of the situation. Sproul declared their belief that a national emergency was at hand and that no steps would be left untaken to preserve order.

It is our duty to do all that we can to avert a dangerous crisis, wired Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania. Governor Harry L. Davis, of Ohio, wired the following: "The State of Ohio has adequate means at its command to suppress violence and enforce and cause all laws to be observed and obeyed and the State of Ohio has used and will use such means, adopt such measures and employ such forces, civil and military, as may be necessary to effectively preserve order."

Governor Percival P. Baxter, of Maine, wired: "Because our people and our industries are dependent upon the proper supply of fuel, Government action will be warranted. Unless production and shipment of coal is immediately resumed, Maine will soon face a real crisis."

Governor Oliver Shoup, of Colorado, wired: "Relative to the coal mining situation in Colorado, the production of coal from the mines of Colorado for the month of June was 190,000 tons greater than for the same month in 1921 and I know of no reason why this favorable condition may not continue."

Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania, wired: "Without taking sides in the controversy between the coal operators and miners we must recognize that a great public emergency exists and a greater one is in prospect. It active mining is not quickly resumed wide-spread unemployment in industries will result. The rewards of agriculture will again be demoralized and hardship will be felt all over the land. Such conditions affecting the whole people make the points of controversy between the mine owners and their men seem trifling in comparison. I am heartily in accord with the efforts of the President in his endeavor to bring about a speedy settlement. As I assured the President yesterday everything will be done in the State of Pennsylvania to uphold his hands in his plans and purposes and it is our duty to do all we can to avert a grave crisis which may cause much trouble and perhaps real disaster in the republic and we must do all in our power to protect all in their rights in Pennsylvania."

RAIL STRIKE SETTLEMENT IN PROSPECT IS OPTIMISTIC REPORT FROM CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., July 19.—A concerted drive by union and carrier heads and the Railway Board to sweep aside remaining differences in the nation-wide hopmen's strike and to get the men back to work by Monday was under way today. Impetus was given the "sweep toward peace" by the announcement by President Grable of the Maintenance of Way men that his 400,000 workers would probably negotiate the disputes separately and that a strike would not be voted at the meeting at Detroit of the grand lodge officers on Friday. The railroad labor board indicated it would grant the Way men a hearing of their case and the settlement would be retroactive to July 1st. One wage compromise, with the Main Tenace Men of the C. M. & St. P. already has been docketed.

Chicago, July 18.—Settlement of the rail strike is in prospect, it was declared here tonight by high authorities.

The way out for both rail executives and union leaders is expected to be provided by hearings to be held before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee to amend the transportation act. The amendments to be considered are:

To make decisions of the United States railroad labor board compulsory.

To set a minimum wage for all classes of railroad labor.

Announcement of E. F. Grable of the maintenance of way union that his controversy with the carriers would be settled without a strike and that Senator Cummins will start hearings on the above questions shortly, were believed to be the real break in the situation.

President E. M. Jewell of the Federated shop crafts, directing the strike, has insisted that he would consider no settlement unless the minimum wage was made the basis of any conciliation. Jewell recently declared that Senator Cummins told him this question would be taken up, but he was not ready to make any announcement.

Chances to "Save Face"

The announcement by President Grable that the hearings are to be held will offer the union leaders a better chance to call off the strike "with dignity" than any other plan yet set forth. As President Grable has just had a conference with President Harding on the situation, during which the employers' side was set forth in detail, it is believed that the President has given the men some assurance that the minimum wage demand will be given early consideration.

Grable was in conference with Chairman Ben Hooper and other members of the labor board today. Before the conference he said he did not see how his men could be held from going on strike. After it he said he had instructed his general chairman to take up the question of adjusting their difficulties with the individual roads.

Decisions Retroactive

President Jewell immediately called a conference with his executive committee and it was believed consideration was being given to the reported offers from Washington.

While Chairman Hooper of the labor board declared he had no statement to make, it was reported the peace offer to the men would take this form:

The wage cut of July 1 will stand pending hearings by the Senate committee and if wages are found not equitable, any new decision will be red-tailed hawks last week. When he kills a hawk Mr. Rearick removes its stomach which he dries and then sends same to the Biological Survey at Washington, where the contents of the stomach is analyzed and it is then determined just what these predatory birds feed upon at different seasons of the year which information is then given the gamekeepers and those interested in the protection of game and inculcious birds.

While traveling thru the game reserve yesterday Mr. Rearick killed the granddaddy of all the rattlesnakes on the mountains. This monster reptile which disputed the right of way of a mountain path with the game keeper when killed measured four feet, ten inches in length, while it took a string sixteen inches in length to encircle the snake's body at the middle. He sported eight rattles and when he sounded his alarm Rearick said it sounded like a boy beating a dishpan with a club.

Mr. Rearick installed a register at his mountain home last week and on Sunday last 153 people from all sections of the country placed their autographs in same. All stopped to look over the zoo the game keeper maintains which includes a spotted

J. PLUVIUS INTERFERES WITH FEED

The Community Service Play-ground faculty arranged a bacon bat at Carter's Green Monday afternoon for the volunteer play leaders. Some forty responded and in spite of thunder rumblings, fires were burning, bacon frying and coffee boiling merrily. Half the guests had come at five to help cook, but just as hot dogs were scientifically prepared, the rains descended and all, including the food, were drenched. Mrs. John Martin came to the rescue inviting the damp crowd to her home, so a few dry ones plus some hardy souls who went home and changed, wound up a jolly evening. What of the supper survived the wetting was warmed over and gaily eaten, followed by games and singing.

ervisors Association and the County Commissioners had all been carried out and that today there was completed and under construction almost thirty miles of road in which the County and the local communities had participated.

The Secretary made a brief report showing what had been accomplished since the original organization of the Association in January 1919. On the purely State projects or primary routes all of the unimproved sections between DuBois and the foot of the Tyrone Mountain had been placed under contract, and in doing this the Association through its officers had constantly cooperated with the Commissioners and the State Highway Department. One of the accomplishments to which attention was called was the fact that changes had been recommended in original routes which resulted in the elimination of eleven grade crossings, all at danger points. Out of the organization grew the campaign for the million dollar bond issue which is now being spent and for which the County is getting 28.9 miles of improved, paved road. That when Route No. 62 a purely primary route to be built by the State, being the River Road from Curwensville to Cherry Tree is built by the State and an additional thirty miles by the County, every Borough and Township in the County would be connected by paved road, a condition that few Counties can boast of. In the past three and a half years there has been secured for Clearfield County between seventy and eighty miles of improved road at an expenditure of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 dollars, of which the County furnished $1,250,000.

Mr. J. M. Leis, of Helvetia, head of a committee from that section asked the Association for its backing of their application for about four miles of road from Stanley, via Helvetia to Luthersburg. Louis Lundberg, of Lanes, also asked for action on a piece of road in Cooper Township, application for which has already been made and approved.

The question as to whether or not the Good Roads Association had served its usefulness and should be discontinued was brought up and the unanimous opinion of the meeting was that its work was not yet done, but the organization should be continued.

L. W. Smith of Penfield asked for some action to be taken on the Penfield Mountain Road so the people of Penfield Valley could reach Clearfield. After discussion it was ordered by motion passed that a Committee of five, two from Penfield Valley, and the other three from Clearfield and Lawrence Township should be created by the Chair to solicit funds and arrange for ways and means to put the road in passable condition.

The question which has been discussed in the papers recently as to the maintenance of our County improved road was referred to a representative of the State Highway Department who stated that under an Act passed by the last Legislature the State Highway Department is authorized and required to see that no permanently improved road is permitted to disintegrate for want of repairs and attention. That is, the State has supervisory authority, and, it necessary power to repair and pay for such road repairs as will keep for roads in proper condition.

James Ruffner of Madera, moved and it was seconded by a dozen persons, that the Association at once begin a campaign for the passing of another million dollar bond issue, which resolution was unanimously adopted.

L. C. Norris, Clerk to the County Commissioners, on behalf of the Commissioners thanked the Association for the assistance that had been rendered them on the road proposition and expressed the Commissioners appreciation of the help that had been so generously given them in solving the many intricate problems which arose. Mr. Norris, by request, also read a report of the number of County projects to which the Million Dollar Bond issue had been applied, giving the localities and the mileage and cost of each project showing a total mileage of 28.9 miles and leaving in the fund a balance of $70,000.00 after paying a number of damage claims.

On motion the officers for the past year were re-elected by acclamation and the meeting adjourned to the call of the Chair.

AN ORDINANCE
Providing for an increase in the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and an issue of bonds to provide funds for the purchase of the same.
Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Clearfield in Council regularly assembled and it is hereby ordered and enacted by authority of the same.

Section 1.—That the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield be and the same is hereby increased in the sum of Six Thousand Dollars to provide funds for the purchase of fire apparatus, which increase of indebtedness is within the two per centum of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of said borough and is within the amount which the municipal authorities have the right to borrow without the assent of the electors thereof.

Section 2.—That twelve coupon bonds of Five Hundred Dollars each, payable in thirty years from the first day of September, 1922, and each redeemable at the option of the Borough of Clearfield in five years, from the date thereof, with interest payable semi-annually on the first days of March and September of each year on each of said bonds at a rate of not more than five per cent per annum, clear of all taxes, be issued for said indebtedness, said bonds to be dated the first day of September, 1922.

Section 3.—That the form of said bonds, shall be drafted by the Committee on Finance of the Council of the Borough of Clearfield and shall be approved by the Council and the Burgess, and the President and Secretary of Council are hereby directed and empowered to sign, seal, and on payment of the money for said bonds, to deliver same with coupons to the purchasers.

Section 4.—That an annual tax of one-fourth mill upon each dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the Borough of Clearfield commencing in the year 1923, be and the same is hereby levied and assessed for the purpose of paying the interest and principal of said bonds.

Section 5.—That before any of said bonds shall be issued, the President and Secretary of Council are hereby directed to file in the office of the Clerk of Quarter Sessions of Clearfield County the statement of Clearfield County law to be filed in proceedings to increase the debt of the municipality. Section 6.—That the Committee on Finance is hereby authorized and directed to negotiate the sale of said bonds to the highest responsible bidder after public notice by advertisement as provided by law but no bid for said bonds at less than their par value shall be accepted.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Retail sales of the Ford Motor Company for June totaled 148,439 trucks and tractors, including 6,054 Canadian and 9,435 foreign sales. Average daily sales were 5,709. The June total of sales was the highest in the company's history and brought the half year's sales to 662,261, also a new high record for six months' sales. July sales are estimated by the company at 151,787, against dealers' requisitions for 200,000.

One July day, forty-five years ago, Thomas A. Edison was busy on the top floor of his laboratory at Menlo Park, N. J., seeking a way in which telegraphic messages, received at ordinary speed, might be recorded "stored up" for transmission later at increased speed.

As he worked he made notes and sketches (in a technique strongly suggestive of Hendrik Willem Van Loon) and as he wrote and sketched he paused now and then to make experiments with apparatus already made according to his directions.

His machine as it existed then had an embossing point that when connected with a telegraph circuit moved up and down, indenting dots and dashes on a paper disk revolving beneath the point. Then the process would be reversed and the dots and dashes automatically repeated over another telegraph line.

While these tests went on Mr. Edison noticed—his hearing had not then become impaired—that a musical note was to be heard when the paper disk was revolving rapidly. An idea was borne of this phenomenon.

He stretched a little diaphragm, attached a steel point to it, coated some paper with paraffin and passed it by hand behind the point as he shouted at the diaphragm. Then he passed the coated paper back behind the steel point. Faintly but unmistakably he heard his own voice shout at him.

The phonograph had come into being.

Mr. Edison knew it too: Forthwith he sketched a draft of a machine and entered the date, July 18, 1877. Beneath, he wrote this prophetic declaration:

"Just tried an experiment with diaphragm having an embossing point and held against paraffin paper moving rapidly. The speaking vibrations are indented nicely and there's no doubt that I shall be able to store up and reproduce automatically at any future time, the human voice perfectly."

for re-election to the U. S. Senate—a feat his pre-war utterances pretty near lost for him. He has his hammer out for the present administration. Here are a few bouquets he handed out in his campaign opening.

"The crisis is upon us. We cannot escape it. Look for a moment at the appalling situation in the industrial field. The greatest of all our industries—agriculture—is almost prostrate. Emergency measures have failed to relieve the farmer.

"Our coal industry is paralyzed. Suffering and want from scarcity of coal next winter seems a certainty.

"Our great merchant fleet, built up at an expense of more than $3,000,000,000 is largely idle while a large American tonnage is carried in British ships. Our fleet is taking millions of dollars every day from the people's pockets.

"Now it is proposed to sell this great fleet to a few private individuals for a few cents on the dollar and to give the purchasers a bonus besides.

"Our railroad industry is in much the same condition as our ships. Since the passage of the Esch-Cummings act, the railroads have taken of the public treasury $1,500,000,000 and yet the burden of excessive rates has not been lifted.

"Meantime, labor is idle as almost never before.

"In addition to all the sacrifices the people made during the great war, they find themselves after it is over in the condition I have described and burdened with a war debt of $24,000,000,000 and saddled with an annual tax burden of approximately $4,000,000,000. The trusts were never so powerful before and recent legislation has only served to aggravate industrial distress.

Outside of the few things "Batling Bob" mentions and some others the country is alright or will be if Bob's pro-German friends send him back to the U. S. Senate."

BUT THE SENATE TALKS ON

Never was talk cheaper than it appears to be this session in the United States Senate. For months the public has waited for Congress to finish the business outlined in a most extensive and important program. Several times President Harding has called upon the legislative branch of the government to get down to business. The country needs a rest, even if the Congressmen don't. The useless prolongation of Congressional sessions at a time when important legislation affecting everybody's business is pending, frazzles the nerves of the nation.

Senator Calder, of New York, the other day touched off the time-wasting fireworks most effectively. He read into the Record a newspaper account of a Georgia lynching. Quite expectedly and in due form a bunch of Southern Senators rose to the occasion. They filled the Record with a discussion of the massacre at Herrin, Illinois. Senator Harris, of Georgia, took occasion to make the charge that there is more lawlessness in New York in a week than in Georgia in a year, which may be true. A week is a long while in New York.

One thing these undignified members of "the most dignified legislative council in the world" failed to make clear: Inasmuch as the constitution of the United States commits the police power to the individual states, what could the United States Senate, by a talkfest of any length, hope to do about the failure of the local authorities to keep the peace either in Georgia or Illinois?

A SAFETY FIRST SUMMER

The Safety Institute of New York is sending out warnings in the form of advice to parents everywhere that the season is upon them, demanding extra watchfulness over the conduct of their children, especially those of the more tender years. Of an approximate 20,000,000 children given liberty by the end of the school term, the Safety Institute estimates that 5,000 will be killed and 100,000 suffer injuries of varying severity during the vacation period. These figures are based upon the ratio of other years, and in the absence of some special caution by parents, may be verified by the records at the end of August.

The Institute offers the suggestion that a little more time devoted to a special training of the children against the more common risks will be rewarded by better results than an attempt at mere watchfulness alone. According to the Safety Institute the larger number of lives lost from fire, drowning and automobiles, and the most dangerous age is fixed at seven years. It is about that age, according to reports, that children are first freed from close parental restraints and watching, and stumble into dangers against which curiosity and ignorance has not been warned.

CRAZY PREPAREDNESS

A recent estimate asserts that there are more men under arms in Europe now than before the war when Germany was at the height of her military power. That is a pretty poor compliment to the common sense of Europe.

In 1914 a generation that had been at peace longer than the average memory had some excuse for not knowing what war would do to it. Everybody in Europe now knows what war is like. Their broken and maimed remember and remind. They are hungry, kept alive by the charity of a nation 3,000 miles away, ought not to want more war. The taxpayers ought to be satisfied not to risk more war. And yet these nations stand, like scratched, besmeared, disheveled, bloody-nosed youngsters in an alley, with doubled-up fists, ready to fly at each other again.

Pugnacious alley brats can be spanked and set to useful work. The boasted intelligence of our supposedly civilized world seems unable to accomplish so much.

Rail Strike Settlement

made retroactive.

The board will assure observance of its decision forbidding contracting out of shops by the railroads.

"My reason for coming before the board today is due to the fact that I have just arrived from Washington, where I had a long conference with President Harding and others in regard to the present wage decision," said Mr. Grable.

To Settle "Living Wage"

"I have received advice that Senator Cummins, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, is going to hold hearings immediately on disputed points in the labor provisions of the transportation act to ascertain principally how the law may be amended so the living wage principle should be made clear to every employee guaranteed a living wage. The basis for the guidance of the committee in the present act is to set a 'just and reasonable' wage. The present issue which should be settled by such a hearing, is an interpretation of this phrase 'just and reasonable' and its application to a living wage.

Boston, Mass., July 19.—Fifty strike breakers were attacked last midnight by a mob of armed men at Concord, N. H., it was learned here today. Several of the men were reported to have been beaten and others driven from the railroad yards.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 19.—A compromise wage agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad and employee representatives of the shop crafts has been reached, it was announced today. The agreement brings to a close a series of compromise between the men and the management under the Company's system of direct negotiations with its men. It is said that about 140,000 are affected by the agreement.

DATE SET FOR START OF

NEW PENN STATE HOSPITAL

Plans are almost complete for the gathering of potato growers from every section of the state to attend the ground breaking ceremonies for the new hospital at the Pennsylvania State College—to be erected entirely from funds subscribed by Pennsylvania growers of the lowly "spud". The date has been set for August 25 and it is suspected that even before that date the entire fund of $150,000 will have been raised.

Delegations of potato growers from every county in the state are planning to come to State College for the breaking of the ground and it is suspected that more than 5000 will be on hand for the occasion. A leading place among those who expect to attend will be reserved for the 230 Butler county boys who have pledged $10,000 as their share in the movement. The visiting growers will not only "break" the ground breaking, but many of them will also have their first opportunity to inspect the college of the state, in which, as citizens of Pennsylvania, they are part owners.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

A Weekly Talk To Mothers Issued Through The Babies' Prophylactic Clinic, Henry Phipps Institution, 7th and Lombard Streets, Philadelphia.

Care of the Baby's Skin in the Summer Time

Baby's skin needs particular care and attention in the summer time. During the hot weather baby is subject to so-called heat rashes. Another name for heat rashes is prickly heat. This shows itself as small red spots which usually come first on the neck and chest and back. This rash is really caused by excessive sweating due to the heat and the irritation of moist clothing on the skin.

Besides this a rash, known as chafing may occur wherever two skin surfaces are in contact. It is present for the most part between the thighs, under the arms and in fat babies, in the folds of the neck.

Prickly heat may be easily prevented by keeping your baby dressed as cool as possible. Soft muslin or linen should be placed next to the skin in place of wool garments.

If the weather is very hot, the baby may be kept naked except for his napkin.

Frequent sponging of the body with water containing a little bicarbonate of soda, not only helps to prevent heat rash, but makes for the general comfort of the baby. Where chafing occurs, the parts should be carefully sponged off, thoroughly dried and freely powdered with baby talcum powder. Stearate of zinc powder may be used.

Should the affected parts be raw zinc ointment should be applied and the opposing skin surfaces separated by a very soft piece of muslin or linen.

Care must be taken not to have your baby breathe in any of the powder on his body. A serious form of bronchitis may develop should he do so. It is dangerous for him to play with the powder box.

As the rash of measles and scarlet fever may at times look like a heat rash, it is always best to consult your physician should you have any doubt as to the character of the rash on your baby.

Pipe Arch Bridge.

An engineering curiosity, said to be unique to this country and to have only one parallel in Europe, is the pipe arch bridge over the Sudbury river which carries Boston's water supply. The span is eighty feet, and the steel pipe, seven and one-half feet in diameter, rises five and one-half feet above the horizontal at the center. The pressure on the abutments when the pipe is filled with water is great and is resisted by a mass of concrete forty feet thick behind each abutment. Across the curved top runs a hand-rail foot bridge. The steel of the pipe in the arched portion is five-eighths of an inch in thickness.

Variations in Weight.

The normal variations in weight may be greatly affected in different ways. Some men lose six pounds or seven pounds during a Turkish bath, while others gain nearly as much in an equally short time by deep drinking.

BASEBALL FANS SHOULD SUPPORT LEGION BALL CLUB

Mgr. Bell and Players Feel They Should Be Given Much Better Attendance at Games.

IS REAL TEAM NOW

Manager Bell is stirring up considerable interest in baseball hereabouts and working hard to get a good team to represent Clearfield. His team has been greatly strengthened the past week and tomorrow afternoon when Ora Plank's fast club arrives here, they will stack up against the best team the American Legion has had on the field this season.

Several new faces will be in the lineup, which should be an added inducement to the fans to turn out. The team has not been having the support so far it deserves and in consequence thereof "needs the money" right now, and Manager Bell hopes to see a record "gate" tomorrow.

Among the newcomers is Nagel, the catcher, who had two home runs in the Gras-flat game, who has been playing with the Johnstown Independents during the past couple of weeks; Childs, a new twirler, comes from Punksutawney and is said to be a real "pretzel bender". He will start the game against Huntingdon and as he has beaten Haggerty's Indiana team and about all the other fast western Pennsylvania semi-pro teams is expected to make a good showing against the fast traveling visitors. In addition to the above Billy Fauver and Guy Bowes, who have been playing all summer at Jersey Shore will also be in the line-up.

The team will be made up from the following:

Infielders—Robinson, Heberling, Shade, W. Fauver, Olcott, Dieter and Peterson.

Outfielders—Lansberry, Bailey, Rowles, Bell, Evans, Bowes.

Pitchers—Childs, R. Fauver, Nichols, Cowdrick, G. Bowes, Erhart.

A further effort will be made to strengthen the team, a meeting for this purpose being scheduled for Friday evening between the directors of the C. C. A. A. and representatives of the American Legion. This meeting will discuss the question of continuing the team beyond the present schedule and the attendance at tomorrow's game will have considerable bearing upon this proposition.

Next Thursday St. Mary's team will be here while negotiations are on with Johnstown and Altoona Independents for following Thursdays.

Turn out at tomorrow's game and give the boys the financial encouragement they deserve. Nothing like good, clean baseball for killing off hot shovism. See you at the park tomorrow.

Mrs. M. J. McGannon, of DuBois is a surgical patient at the Clearfield Hospital.

Letter of The Central Coal Association of Penna.

continued to serve the country's fuel needs on a reasonable basis.

An acceptance on our part of this provisional scale would constitute a betrayal of the operators and of the mine workers who had already borne their share of the economic burden which we have understood from the President's previous and often repeated statements was expected of every industrial group in the country.

As to the increased cost of coal to the consumer, we have nothing to say. The government having intervened, the public's interests are in its hands. We do, however, protest most vigorously against the unfair weapon now placed in the hands of a small group of labor leaders with which to destroy the work of re-adjustment already peacefully effected by mutual agreement in one-half of our industry.

SECOND.—The President's plan embodies a provisional scale for the resumption of work on basic wage rates and working conditions which grant to the miners practically every exorbitant demand which they have made, and for which they have contended without regard either for economic law, or for the laws of this country enacted to protect life, to preserve order and to guarantee the right of individuals to offer or to obtain employment by free bargaining, either singly or collectively.

Our acceptance of this proposal would establish and vindicate the doctrine of the radical element in organized labor that force wins victory.

As to the President's plan of arbitration, we are thoroughly in accord with it in principle as evidenced by our last resolution in conference, which was rejected by the mine workers. We protest, however, that the true principle of arbitration is perverted in the President's plan on the following grounds:

FIRST.—The operators are asked to surrender unconditionally their fundamental principle of district wage agreements before appearing before this commission. No recognition of regional necessities is granted during the provisional term which might, and no doubt would be extended until March, 1923.

SECOND.—We protest against the recognition made by the President's plan of the compulsory collection of union dues from the pay envelopes of all their employees under the iniquitous "check-off" system. By this means an enormous war chest has been automatically financed for the United Mine Workers. The funds thus exacted from every union miner have provided the means for conducting armed warfare, for financing a host of newspapers, pamphlets and lectures which have attacked the administration of the United States, attempted to nullify the authority of the supreme and federal courts, to foster class hatred, to condemn and discredit the orderly forces of society.

We are compelled to waive our two fundamental contentions before the appointment of a commission and the remainder of our case which might be brought before the commission is comparatively little moment to us, or to those who represent and cannot, in our opinion, be called arbitration in any true sense of the word.

We will promptly and willingly submit to any neutral commission of representative citizens not connected with the production of coal the full and detailed reasons for our unalterable stand upon district agreements and the abolition of the "check-off" system. And with these issues we will also arbitrate any and all other phases or features of our business.

Pending the appointment of a neutral commission and in order to meet the imperative demand for a prompt resumption of mining, we respectfully suggest that the President should amend his proposal for a provisional wage agreement as follows:

"Mine workers are to return to work on the scale of wages which expired last March 31st, adjusted to conform with the changes in the cost of living between August 15th, 1920, when this scale became operative, and this date. This adjustment to be determined from the cost of living under index figures of the Department of Labor."

We believe that the future of America as a manufacturing nation, and even as a democratic society depends upon the successful issue of our contentions.

It is with a full knowledge of its gravity that we have reached our decision and we respectfully call the President's attention to the perils involved in a compromise of principle to gain expediency at this critical juncture.

Respectfully submitted,

THE CENTRAL COAL ASSOCIATION.

Re-United After 24 Years

Then paths often crossed but for 24 years after their separation when their mother died at Krakok, Ia. Mrs. J. J. Rabe, of Ft. Madison, Ia. and Mrs. H. A. Rankin, Lincoln, Neb., had not seen each other. A few weeks ago Mrs. Rankin found her sister through a letter written to a sister of hers.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY SISTERS MARRIED

A double wedding occurred at the office of Alderman Shoff in Altoona Monday afternoon, July 17, at 4 o'clock, in which the brides were sisters and Clearfield county girls. The young women are Misses Viola and Gladys Shimmel, of Kermoor.

Miss Viola Shimmel was married to William Clarence Wyland, an employee of the Pennsylvania Steel Car shop at Altoona, while Miss Gladys became the bride of Harry Miller who is employed at the Robert store in Altoona. The young couple plan to go to housekeeping together at East Altoona.

Exchanged Ideas.

That the Egyptians were in constant communication with other nations is shown by the fact that Egyptian scarabs and naulets, Phoenician pottery and Greek terra cotta figures are found in the tombs of different periods. Bronze daggers and jewelry are fairly common and a safety pin, 3,000 years old, that would still work, is said to have been found.

HERBS USED IN MEDICINES

A Manchester, England, paper urges the renewed cultivation of old-fashioned medicinal herbs in English gardens. In the United States they also have gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes, as their medicinal value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tons of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for women's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

There's one place to bring it—HERE! The watches that are being brought here come in with all kinds of complaints, and they go out running as sweet as your car motor. They come in with broken mainsprings, broken crystals, dirty insides, in fact with everything wrong that could happen to a watch.

But how they go out! Mainsprings doing what they should, crystals fixed, works as clean as the proverbial tooth, and everything ticking away as you would like to have it.

FINE SHOWING FOR PENN STATE'S WORK

STATE BUREAU TO AID OF BUSINESS

States College, Pa., July 19.—(U. P.)—The probable increase in produced wealth in Pennsylvania in a year resulting from the engineering instruction given to about 7,000 extension and correspondence students of the Pennsylvania State College is $1,000,000, according to an estimate made by Dean R. L. Sackett. The men, who are for the most part mechanics, designers, power plant engineers, shop operators and foremen do not come to the college at all but have their education brought to them by mail or by the traveling agents of the college.

"Assuming that this training increases their value by only six cents an hour," said Dean Sackett, "the additional wealth produced in the state amounts to about $1,000,000 a year. The entire cost of operating the college for a year is only a little more than twice this amount."

Harrisburg, Pa., July 19.—(U. P.)—Plans for the complete service to Pennsylvania manufacturers are being worked out by Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Clifford B. Connelley, with Harry A. Nye, of Erie, member of the State Industrial Board, representing the employers.

The first step in the plan of cooperation with manufacturers was submitted to Nye at the Board meeting this month to be acted on by the Committee on Industrial Surveys, of which Nye is Chairman. It comprises the gathering of statistics and information relative to foreign trade opportunities for Pennsylvania products. Nye thought it might be possible to obtain such data and publish it in the departmental periodical.

Letters will be sent to all manufacturers in the State, business men's associations, and manufacturers' organizations, advising them of the appointment of Nye to represent their interests on the Board, and to offer his services in any way that will further their interests. It is hoped that in this way suggestions may be received by which the full measure of cooperation with the State may be obtained.

It is possible that between now and the next meeting of the Industrial Board in September, Nye may address the business men and manufacturers of the State personally at some of their regular meetings, at which time he can explain his new duties and offer his services.

Saved.

When labor-saving machinery was first introduced, most people opposed it, on the ground that it would throw many out of jobs. Many an old-time sewing machine salesman still carries backshot in his legs as a result of "practical" gentlemen who objected to labor-saving devices on the ground that they would throw out of work the labor-saving device men. Today we are using labor-saving devices in all our work, and the standard of living has risen. The same is true of the telephone. It was once said that it would throw out of work 600,000 men and boys.

VERMIN DESTROYERS

We are showing a lot of them—powders, sprays and the like, but every one a sure killer for the vermin for which it is intended. We have some pertinent advice for you along these lines, if you'll ask us.

$200,000 HIGH SCHOOL FOR PLAINS, PA.

Plains, Pa., July 19.—(U. P.)—Plans for the erection of a new $200,000 junior and senior high school here are now being drawn by the architect. Despite the fact that the voters defeated a proposal to float a loan for the erection of the school, the school directors ordered the drawings completed at once.

The members of the school board, it was learned, have decided the school is a vital necessity and to erect it will increase the school millage tax.

MONSTER ENGINES HERE ON WAY WEST

Lewis Beckler and Thomas King, of Philadelphia, representing the Baldwin Locomotive Works, were in Clearfield today on the first leg of the long journey to the Pacific Coast. They rolled into the local N. Y. C. yards last night at 10 o'clock in charge of four of the new Baldwin oil burning locomotives, which are consigned to the Southern and Central Pacific railroads for use in passenger and freight service on the mountain division in the coast country.

The four machines are part of an order of fifty similar engines built by the Baldwin people, twenty of which were sent across country together on May 25th last and widely advertised. The four here today are a part of the remaining thirty now ready for delivery.

Th engines sure are monsters. They are about 100 feet long and stand 16 feet 7 inches high in service.

They left Clearfield at 2:30 o'clock and will follow the Lake Shore route into Cleveland.

Subject Atlantic Medium to the severest operating conditions—the hottest-running cylinders, the heaviest bearing pressure, the highest motor speed. It will not break down! It will not be forced from the friction surfaces! Even after dilution through the absorption of fuel vapors or contamination from foreign matter in the crankcase, Atlantic Medium can be restored to its original condition, showing that the character of the oil is not appreciably changed by use.

All of which will support the claim that there is no finer medium-bodied motor oil made than ATLANTIC MEDIUM.
